New Construction
Projects Started
On Poplar Street

I READ WITH CURIOSITY an advertisement from Gaskins funeral home in last night's Daily Register. You seldom see a funeral home advertise for anything but Gaskins was. The ad was advertising for "sidewalk superintendents" to come around and superintend a new construction job.

I got myself appointed a sidewalk superintendent in charge of investigations and proceeded on West Poplar to the mortuary. There I learned from Bert's brother Bob that work has started on an addition to the building.

This addition, which will contain a reception room, private office and will add to the size of the chapel, will be of brick and wood. T. P. Thompson and Son has the contract. Bill Brown is tearing off the front porch and the work will start from there and proceed northward to the sidewalk. The entrance then will be on the west side of the addition.

The work has been sealed off from the present building so that funerals can be handled without interference from the construction job.

Down on the other end of the street, in the 600 block of East Poplar, a new job has started. A motel is being constructed inside the city.

Shirley Mabrey, present owner of Motel Eldorado on Route 45 between Routes 45-142 and Beulah Heights, is constructing this job. Doing the work for him is Elmer Ewan.

The motel will consist of 10 units at present but Mabrey owns a house to the north, which faces Locust street, that will be torn away according to present plans and the motel can be enlarged. He also has the house on Poplar to the west of the project, but plans to use the ground it rests on are not in the immediate plans.

A ROMANCE DEPARTMENT now and then should live up anybody's dissertation and Timmo's is no exception. This is the story as told to me:

A young couple from Chicago went to the Gallatin county clerk's office the other day and said they wanted a marriage license. Asked about their blood tests, they did not know anything about such a law.

It was explained that tests could be made at Carmi, that they could get the result up there and then get the license. They departed and in a few hours returned with certificates showing that their tests showed up negative, which means they could get a license.

Then the office proceeded to start filling out an application and when the boy was asked his age he replied "twenty."

That meant further complications. He would have to have parental consent to the marriage, he was told. The couple was stunned for a moment, then they departed.

The records show that they came on to Saline county, produced the results of their blood tests, the young man gave his age as twenty-one and everything went smoothly at this end.

Plane Crash-Lands
Near Golconda; One
Of Two Injured

An airplane crash-landed yesterday afternoon one mile south of Golconda, injuring one of its two occupants, State Policeman Adolph Sweat reported today.

The Cessna-170 was piloted by George Thomas Massey Jr., 48, of Bowling Green, Ky., who was uninjured. The other occupant, Clyde G. Spencer, 56, a partner of Massey in a Bowling Green construction firm, suffered a broken wrist, fractured nose and other facial injuries.

The plane's propeller, wings and tail surface were damaged when the craft flipped in a cornfield on the George Craper farm on the Golconda-to-Bay City road.

Massey was treated for his injuries at the Rosiclare hospital, being taken there by an auto from the Paducah airport.

The two were en route to Paducah from Bowling Green and ran into bad weather. A forced landing was made when the plane ran out of gasoline.

McCarthy Blames
Democrats for
Row with ArmyPolitical Quarrel
Interrupts Probably
Last Day of Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy charged today that Democrats "goaded and shoved" Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens into the Army-McCarthy row. He said the Democratic party will "suffer and bleed" for it.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said the Army-McCarthy wrangle provided "eloquent" testimony that the Republicans cannot govern "without turmoil and harangue." McClellan said it was strictly a Republican fight.

The Senate investigating subcommittee's marathon hearings, in their 30th and probably last day, turned into a political donnybrook. Mundt Scolds Stevens

Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) scolded Stevens for consulting a Democratic lawyer instead of a Republican last winter when the Army's troubles with McCarthy were boiling up to major proportions.

McCarthy, in the witness chair, said his quarrel with the Army "was the result of the urging" of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) and, to an unknown extent, of Clark Clifford, one-time White House counsel to former President Truman.

"Here we have a very innocent secretary of the Army being goaded and shoved into a fight," McCarthy told McClellan. "And your party will suffer and bleed because of it."

Dirksen Joins Fight
Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) joined the fray by commenting that "more progress was made by Communist infiltration" in the 20 unbroken years of Democratic rule from 1933-53 than in the previous 85 years since Karl Marx issued his Communist manifesto.

Dirksen said the Eisenhower administration received a "bitter inheritance" of communism from the Democratic regime. He added that it is this administration's credit that it is working "steadily and vigorously" to uproot them.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) read excerpts from McCarthy testimony which, he said, showed McCarthy had been attacking the Eisenhower administration. McCarthy replied to Jackson's recital by saying: "You and I know we (Republicans) inherited this situation."

And if it were not for the Democratic members, McCarthy said, his subcommittee would be investigating Communists today.

Contempt Test Sought
Before the new flareup of the old row about the Clifford-Symington role in the case, McCarthy called for a legal test, at the earliest possible moment, of a presidential order which forbids disclosure of loyalty information to Congress. He said this should be done by contempt proceedings.

Rains Flood
Eastern Streams;
Heat Continues

By United Press
Torrential rains broke a heat wave and caused flash floods in the East, but the Midwest continued to suffer today.

The rains late Wednesday flooded streams in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Four inches drenched Steubenville, Ohio, in less than two hours and four feet of water stood in the Cameron, W. Va. business section.

Eight persons were rescued after a flash flood in South Fayette Township near Pittsburgh, Pa., and a Waynesburg, Pa., boy was knocked unconscious by a lightning bolt. Heat Wave Continues

The Midwest heat wave went into its fifth day as forecasters continued to hold out promises of possible relief by the weekend.

Meanwhile, tornadoes struck the Midwest for the third consecutive night. Earl Southard, 65, Liscomb, Iowa, was seriously injured when a twister picked up his car and threw it into a water-filled ditch near Marshalltown, Iowa. Another tornado struck near Elgin, N. D., but no damage was reported.

At Knox, Ind., James Japson, 43, of Chicago, was killed by a lightning bolt as he fished in Bass Lake. Turn Off the Heat

The heat became an issue in a Chicago courtroom, where Mrs. Anna Kraft charged that her estranged husband refused to shut down the furnace in their jointly owned apartment.

Judge Alan E. Ashcraft, sweating in 92-degree heat, issued an injunction to turn off the heat.

Officers Elected By Presbyterian
Illinois Synod and Synodical Society

By Katharine Q. Griffith

The Rev. John S. Holladay, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church of Cairo, Cairo Presbytery, the 1954 Moderator of the Synod of Illinois, Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. He was elected at the opening session of the synod at its annual meeting which convened at 3 o'clock Tuesday, in the First Presbyterian church at Carbondale.

The Rev. Robert M. Means Hamilton, retiring vice-moderator, presided in the absence of Elder Edward J. Fisher, retiring moderator, until the new official was elected.

The First Presbyterian church of Carbondale is host to both the Synod of Illinois and the Illinois Synodical Society. The women's organization, Synodical, is holding its meetings in the Walnut Street Baptist church, one block north of the Presbyterian building. The groups last met in Carbondale in 1927.

The Rev. Edward L. Gibson, Henry, who was pastor of the Carbondale church 1943-1945, gave the constituting prayer. The Rev. Charles E. Howe, host pastor, made the nomination for moderator which was seconded by the Rev. John F. Burhorn, Anna The Rev. Holladay was unanimously elected.

The report of the nominating committee was accepted and the following chairmen of standing committees elected: History and genealogy, Dr. J. F. Lyons, Chicago, for three years; ministerial relations, Dr. A. R. Lynn, Granite City, to succeed himself; stewardship and promotion, Dr. R. P. Gracel, Springfield; evangelism and new life, the Rev. James G. Franz, Joliet; broadcasting and television, the Rev. Raymond B. Knudson, Springfield; maintenance of the ministry, Elder F. S. Stewart, Peoria.

Other officials elected were: member-at-large, Elder Leigh M. Kagy, East St. Louis, for three years; trustees, The Rev. L. K. Paterson, East Moline, and Elder L. J. Leutwiler, Alton; permanent secretary, Dr. R. P. Gracel, Springfield.

The synod voted to purchase the property at its annual meeting here Wednesday. The sanatorium was founded by Dr. George Palmer in 1913 and was closed last year. It was at one time the only tuberculosis sanatorium in Illinois. The synod expects the first residents will be able to move into the old people's home in September.

The synod also voted to raise minimum salaries of its ministers in Illinois to $3,300 for single ministry fields and to $3,900 for city fields.

The delegates also urged Illinois congressmen to support the Bryson Bill to ban beer and liquor advertising in newspapers and magazines of general interstate circulation and went on record favoring adoption of the "blue ballot" reapportionment amendment to the state constitution.

The synod voted to hold its annual meeting next year at Knox college, Galesburg, on June 8-11.

Two Former Saline
County Men are Sentenced at Vienna

Tommy Gene Gibbs and Charles Castled, former Saline county men, today pleaded guilty to burglary indictments at Vienna when arraigned before Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds and both were given prison sentences of three to five years, to run concurrently.

Power was off 27 minutes up town just before noon and for longer periods in some sections of the city after a truck hit and tore down some wires in front of the gas plant near the Milligan coal yards.

William Hopkins, CIPS superintendent, said apparently two primary lines were thrown together and they burned in two, building up a surge that burned up five primaries.

U. S. Requests
Authority to Search ShipsSeek to Prevent Communist Arms
From Guatemala

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has asked major seafaring nations for authority to stop and search their merchant vessels on the high seas to keep Communist arms from reaching Guatemala, officials said today.

They said the U. S. request is now under study by the various nations and no replies have been received.

Officials said the United States has already received assurances from non-Communist countries that they will not permit any arms shipments from their own ports to Guatemala.

They indicated that the search authority is aimed at foreign flag ships which touch at the ports of Iron Curtain countries. A Swedish flag ship which had stopped at Stettin, Poland, carried arms to Guatemala last month.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White told a news conference that the United States has been holding informal discussions with the important non-Communist maritime nations "with a view to obtaining their cooperation in preventing the shipment of arms to that country (Guatemala)."

"The attitude of these countries has been favorable," White said. "Through the cooperation of friendly countries shipments of this nature (armaments) have been prevented."

White declined to list all of the nations being consulted, but he conceded that Denmark is one.

A United Press dispatch from Copenhagen had disclosed several hours earlier that the U. S. request for ship search authority had been received by the Danish Foreign Office and was under study.

The British Foreign Office in London, queried about the Copenhagen report that all seafaring nations of Europe had received similar requests from the United States, confirmed that the U. S. had made such a request of Britain orally in Washington.

The British Foreign Office spokesman commented "It raises important issues and the matter is being carefully studied."

The request to Denmark was understood to have been made in a note.

Danish observers generally expected it to be refused, but believed it would be discussed with other Scandinavian governments before any reply is given.

No arms can be exported from Denmark without a license from the Danish government.

U. S. Would Be In Shooting War If Supported by Allies, Manion Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence E. Manion, co-chairman of the "For America" political organization, said the United States "would be shooting it out in Indochina right now" if it had been able to obtain allies.

He added that Prime Minister Winston Churchill reportedly told the British cabinet that "it would take only two television appeals by President Eisenhower" to change Americans' opposition to fighting in Indochina.

"If what Churchill says is true that boy of yours may be just two television appearances removed from fighting in southeast Asia, he said.

Manion, former chairman of the President's Commission on International Relations, made the statements in a radio speech Wednesday night.

Dallas Man Slashes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas man was placed under a peace bond for "air conditioning" his wife's fur coat.

The woman told the judge her husband began to cut off a sleeve and slash the back of the coat—while she was wearing it.

"Where did you get the coat?" the judge asked.

"I was afraid you were going to ask that," she said. "My husband asked the same question—he objected to another man giving me the coat and started slashing."

Capacity Crowd
Attends Annual Shrine Circus

Until ticket sales are checked, the number attending the third annual Shrine circus at the Harrisburg fairgrounds Wednesday night cannot be determined, but the crowd filled all available seating facilities, and some stood or sat on the ground during the performance.

The acts were varied as was audience approval. There were clowns, animal acts, balancing and tumbling acts, aerial performances, tight wire thrillers, and novelties, all to make a well-rounded performance.

Included among the notable Shriners in attendance was Marshall Ward, Potentate of Ainal Temple, the patent sponsoring organization of the circus, organized by Tom Potts.

Potentate Ward was introduced at the outset of the show with Edwin Popkess Jr., program chairman, Russell Maxwell and Joe Wylie, co-chairmen of publicity and Ralph Pallister, president of the Egyptian Shrine club, Harrisburg, local sponsor of the event.

Mr. Pallister presented scrolls of appreciation to members of the state highway department from division 13 for their courtesy in assisting in handling crowds at various southern Illinois performances; to Curtis Small of The Daily Register; to Harry Horning in behalf of WSL-TV; to Loren Travelstead, Harrisburg chief of police; and in absentia to Ingles M. Taylor of radio station WEBQ.

Several women from Harrisburg left yesterday by car to attend the encampment but are planning to stay only one week, through June 23. Mrs. Bert Bethel, a member of the First Baptist church, who is a state approved worker, is a member of the faculty and will stay until the school is over in July.

Others attending were Mrs. Merle Guard who represents the beginners' department at the First Baptist church, Mrs. Herman Davis, the cradle roll at the First Baptist church, Mrs. Kenneth Smith, who is from the adult department of the McKinley Baptist church and Mrs. J. D. McCarthy, wife of the pastor at McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Miss Faye Moffett, a member of the First Baptist church, who was recently called to Crescent City, Iowa, because of the death of her aunt, has also been scheduled to attend.

Eisenhower
Order Attacked
By Senator GorePresident Directs
AEC to Contract with Private Utilities

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today directed the Atomic Energy Commission to make a contract with private utilities to supply power through the TVA for the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky.

The order immediately was attacked by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) who challenged the "wisdom and legality" of the action.

The President's order was disclosed by AEC General Manager Kenneth D. Nichols at a hearing by the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy committee on the year-long fight over the administration move to allow private utilities to supply power to TVA for use by atomic plants.

Nichols said the commission received a letter this morning from Budget Director Rowland Hughes saying the President directs the AEC to "proceed as rapidly as possible" to sign "a definitive contract" with the Mid-South Southern utilities group for the power.

Money Saving Claimed
Hughes' letter said acceptance of the Mid-South Southern (Dixons-Yates) proposal would avoid the outlay of 100 million dollars of federal money over the next three years to expand TVA power capacity.

Under the proposal, outlined publicly for the first time by Nichols, the private utility plant would be built near West Memphis, Ark., at a cost of $107,250,000.

The private plant would supply 600,000 kilowatts of power into the TVA system to replace an equal amount of power TVA is delivering to the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky.

In his letter to the AEC, Hughes said the costs of the power from the private utilities would be "reasonable" compared to TVA estimates, when all factors, such as taxes, are considered.

Nichols placed the annual cost of operation of the private plant at $20,369,000 compared with $16,884,000 for a TVA plant. About 41 percent of the difference, Nichols said, is made up of state and local taxes which will be paid for by the AEC under the proposal negotiated with Mid-South Southern.

Nichols disclosed that the atomic commission was split over the advisability of entering into such a contract with a private utility. But he said the AEC left it up to the President or Congress to determine whether the contract would be "advantageous."

Ike's Appointees Approve
Two members of the commission appointed by the President—Chairman Lewis J. Strauss and Joseph Campbell—were in favor of the contract if directed by the President, Nichols said.

Two other members, Prof. Henry D. Smyth and Eugene M. Zuckert, were opposed.

The fifth, Thomas E. Murray, has taken no definite stand, Nichols said.

Smyth, who attended the hearings, told the committee he was opposed to getting the AEC into "the power business" and contracting for power which would not be directed to the AEC by the AEC. He referred to the fact that West Memphis power would be fed into the TVA power pool from which the AEC would draw what it needed.

Claiming that the AEC needs no additional power at Paducah, Gore charged that the "ulterior purpose" of the contract was to "find a way to prevent TPA from building additional generating capacity."

The Paducah plant requires 1,940,000 kilowatts of power. Under present arrangements, Electric Energy, Inc., a group of five private power companies, supplies 735,000 kilowatts from a big plant at Joppla, Ill. TVA supplies the remaining 1,205,000 kilowatts.

The 600,000 kilowatts from the proposed West Memphis plant would reduce by that amount the power supplied to Paducah by TVA.

To meet present and anticipated commitments in the next three years, it has been estimated that TVA would have to build new generating facilities to supply an additional 600,000 kilowatts. But if the West Memphis project goes through, TVA would not have to expand its own capacity.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Senate Precedents Exist for Ousting Committee Chairmen

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Republican Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont raised a fine point in urging that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy be stripped of his committee chairmanship if he does not clear himself of charges involving his personal finances.

The Senate has removed committee chairmen at least five times in its history. So there are precedents for this action.

In 1837, following the election of Andrew Jackson as President, the Senate itself voted to remove Henry Clay as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and Daniel Webster as chairman of the Finance Committee.

Both these men had opposed Jackson and his policies. President Jackson was, of course, the originator of the political "spoils system," mistaking entrenched power and believing in rotation in office.

Clay and Webster were replaced by two of his own followers in a purely political move. In a second instance, the Democratic majority caucus of the Senate took the action. This was in 1859, when Stephen A. Douglas was removed as chairman of the Committee on Territories. The reason was that Douglas opposed the policy of President James Buchanan, though both were members of the Democratic Party.

In Gen. Ulysses S. Grant's second administration, the Republican caucus this time took similar action by removing Charles Sumner as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

THE REASON GIVEN was that Sumner did not speak to or meet socially with the President and his Secretary of State, Hamilton Fish. This made it impossible for him to carry on his duties.

Getting down to more modern times, in 1924 the progressive Republicans were able to block the appointment of Sen. Albert B. Cummins of Iowa to the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce Committee. He was an "old guard" Republican.

Though his appointment had been decided on by the regular Republican caucus in the Senate, the insurgents refused to ratify on the Senate floor.

They were able to force a floor vote for three candidates. In the election, Sen. E. D. "Cotton" Ed. Smith of South Carolina won, though he was a member of the minority Democratic Party.

By still another procedure, the Senate Military Affairs Committee in 1941 forced its chairman, Sen. Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina, to stand aside and allow his duties to be performed by the ranking Democratic member, Sen. Elbert D. Thomas of Utah.

Senator Reynolds was accused of having had close relations with Nazi Germany. This was the era of preparation for World War II. Senator Reynolds was not in sympathy with these moves. He was not fired. The Senate committee just took his job away from him, leaving him his title.

These precedents indicate there is a wide variety of methods by which a Senate committee chairman may be removed or stripped of his powers. There is no law or Senate rule governing the selection of committee chairmen.

But there are long-standing customs and traditions, which have almost the force of Senate rules, and which would be difficult to upset.

THESE PRACTICES ARE BASED on the seniority system. Once a senator is appointed to a committee, he can remain as long as he is in Congress, unless he seeks appointment to another committee, and if his seniority entitles him to bump a junior member. Members of committees are ranked according to their years of service. The senior member automatically is designated for chairmanship unless he is chairman of another standing committee.

Ever since 1846, it has been Senate practice to make committee appointments by two Committees on Committees — one for each party — made up of party leaders. These submit their lists to the Senate for approval as a matter of form.

In only one instance — the case of Senator Cummins, cited above — have the lists been questioned or overruled. But the power of the Senate to remove a chairman or change a membership is believed to be inherent.

Prior to 1846 the Senate elected all committees and committee chairmen by ballot. The members got their rank by the number of votes they received. This practice led to abuses in political trading for the choicer assignments.

All congressional reform efforts to do away with the seniority system and choose committee chairmen on a merit basis have failed.

SEE ILLINOIS NOW—Visit your scenic and historic Illinois State Parks and Memorials. No. 1, Grant Home, at Galena, is the home given to General Ulysses S. Grant when he returned from the Civil War. No. 2, Pere Marquette State Park, in Jersey county, is named for Father Jacques Marquette, who was a member of the first party of white men to explore Illinois. No. 3, Fort Creve Coeur, near Peoria, is the site of the fort built by LaSalle in 1680. No. 4, Fox Ridge, in Coles county, is a heavily wooded tract on rolling hills rising from the banks of the Embarras river.

Pere Marquette State Park Covers 5,000 Acres, Largest in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Pere Marquette State park in Jersey county on State Route 100 is the largest of all the recreational areas in Illinois' vast network of parks. The wooded hills which extend as far as the eye can reach cover an area of more than 5,000 acres. Located near the point where the Illinois river enters the Mississippi river, the park marks the spot where the first white men entered the Illinois country in 1673.

It was in the autumn of that year that Father Jacques Marquette, Louis Jolliet and five companions turned their canoes up the Illinois river. A majestic stone cross serves as an impressive memorial to the members of this little group.

From the top of the highest hills in Pere Marquette State Park it is possible to see the Illinois and Mississippi rivers and sometimes the distant waters of the Missouri river also can be pointed out.

A visit to Pere Marquette State park is suggested by Governor William G. Stratton this week in connection with the program designed to encourage residents of the state to "See Illinois Now." The program is sponsored by the Division of Department Reports with the cooperation of the Division of Parks and Memorials and the Departments of Safety and Public Works and Buildings.

Boasting a rambling rustic lodge which is considered one of the finest in the nation plus a number of stone cottages, Pere Marquette State park affords considerable accommodations for visitors desiring to remain overnight or to spend entire vacation periods. Advance reservations are suggested, however.

More Than 1,000 Visitors at Opening Of Boy Scout Camp

The official opening of the new Boy Scout camp was pronounced a great success by Scouting officials as over 1,000 visitors toured the area over the past week end in defiance of heat. They saw the Troop sites, buildings, program facilities which have been provided in order to give boys a more complete Scouting program.

Visitors were led by guides to see the health lodge, chapel, waterfront, program areas, and other facilities. Demonstrations of Scoutcraft skills, boating, canoeing, and swimming were given by several Troops.

H. L. Kunz, Carbondale, council president, said that adult visitors showed great interest in the camp which is still under development. "We are hopeful that all who visited will now help us to complete the camp this year by subscribing the balance of the funds needed," he said.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT J. BLUE cut their four-tiered wedding cake at a reception following their wedding at Farrell, Pa., Saturday, May 29.

Miss Mamie Uretta Gurrera, Robert Blue Exchange Vows in Double-Ring Ceremony

Before an altar decorated with stands of gladioli and greenery, Miss Mamie Uretta Gurrera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gurrera, Farrell, Penn., and Robert J. Blue, son of Mrs. George Ames, Harrisburg, exchanged wedding vows in Our Lady of Fatima church Saturday, May 29.

Rev. Geno Monti officiated at the double ring ceremony while Sister Matilda presided at the organ.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a lovely gown of chantilly lace and tulle designed with a tight fitting bodice closed with tiny covered buttons. The floor length skirt was fashioned of tiers of nylon tulle over satin, and her veil of french illusion was caught to a cap of pearls woven into a flower design. She carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Rose Mary Songer, maid of honor, wore a gown of aqua. The bouffant skirt draped over a hoop and the bodice was designed with a colonial neckline. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to members of the family and the bridal party.

Approximately 300 guests attended the reception held that evening at the Sons of Italy Home. The bridal table was centered with a four tiered cake topped with bride and groom figurines flanked with tiny favors of wedding bells swathed in pastel maline.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue, after a wedding trip through the eastern states, are now at home at 121 West South street, Harrisburg.

The bride is a graduate of Farrell high school and Sharon Gen-

Stevenson Hits GOP 'Platoon System' Policy

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, said today the Republican administration has given the nation "a foreign policy by the platoon system."

Stevenson, opening a tour of Lansing, Flint, and the Detroit area, told a news conference held in the office of Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams all Americans should aid the administration.

"But he said present world and domestic conditions 'have shown the Republican Party, as presently constituted, is incapable of governing the nation.'"

"We have a foreign policy by the platoon system and it seems to be confusing whether the policies are being enunciated by Secretary Dulles, Senator Knowland or Vice President Nixon," he said.

Stevenson accused the Republican administration of "inadequate, indecisive leadership." He said growing concern over world conditions, unemployment, agriculture problems and "McCarthyism" will be issues in this year's election.

"I expect Democrats to win the majority of House seats and there are good prospects for winning control of the Senate," he said.

Asked whether he is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination for 1956, Stevenson said, "If I were a candidate, I would not tell you."

Plan Father-Son Program of Indian Guides

Plans to provide a new program of father and son relationships called the Indian Guides this coming fall were announced today by S. M. Farrar, sponsor of YMCA activities in Harrisburg.

He announced these plans will be made through the cooperation of Russell Malan, superintendent of city schools and the principals of the schools. These clubs will meet in the homes of the boys and include fathers and their sons from the first, second and third grades. There are at present more than 60 such Indian Guide Tribes in southern Illinois. More information will be available this fall as to the time and place of meetings, Mr. Farrar said.

Activities of the YMCA in Harrisburg have been a vital part of the community, he stated. He praised the Hi-Y club, under the leadership of H. B. Bauman, dean of men, at the HTHS, and Principal R. L. Foster, who is a member of the Southern Illinois YMCA board of directors.

State Sen. Lott Holman O'Neill Hits GOP Platform

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—State Sen. Lott Holman O'Neill said Wednesday night that if Republicans follow the Illinois GOP program they will "most surely lose out in November."

Mrs. O'Neill, addressing the Du Page County Coalition of Patriotic Citizens, said the Republican state platform lacks forthrightness.

"She said it was written the night before the recent state GOP convention by 'three or four' persons with the approval of Gov. William G. Stratton."

"Illinois should have gone on record with the virility which marked the Republican platform in Wisconsin," she said.

She urged Republicans to persuade U. S. senatorial candidate Joseph Meek to "come out for some of these things that real Americans want."

Mrs. O'Neill accused President Eisenhower of "interfering in state politics."

"Why should he come to Illinois and tell us what to do?" she asked.

"I am too much of a pro-Taft pro-American to go along with this sort of thing."

Who Loses The Penny?

OXFORD, Me. (AP)—Two factions battled at a town meeting over whether to reduce the annual appropriation to pay town officers.

One group favored "a substantial reduction" while the other plumped for the same appropriation as last year. The compromise approved was for $3,999.99. Last year's appropriation was $4,000.

Wounded Vets in Need of Stamps

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Recovery of veterans wounded in Korea is being speeded here by the "hobby of kings"—stamp collecting.

Military doctors place stamp collecting high on the list of occupational therapy activities which take wounded men's minds off their troubles and speed their recovery, the officials say.

A stamp club at the U. S. Naval Hospital here is spearheaded by a retired college professor, J. L. Zerbe, FRPS, who devotes all of his spare time to working with wounded veteran collectors.

The club depends to a great extent on stamps sent in by the public, but, since peace has come in Korea, public contributions of stamps and materials have fallen off greatly, Zerbe said.

"War may be over but the wounded still are with us," he added. "We need good, collectable stamps now more than ever. We cannot use any common one, two or three-cent stamps, such as come on ordinary mail, but any good foreign material or United States commemoratives are more than welcome."

The Red Cross provides albums for the men and the club meets once weekly in the hospital. The club's address is: San Diego Naval Hospital Stamp Club, Building 7, U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego 34, Calif.

New York Times Says Gov. Dewey Will Retire from Public Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will retire from public life at the end of his current term of office, the New York Times reported today.

The Governor's decision to leave politics is "definite and irrevocable," the Times said, and "a formal announcement . . . will be made within the next week or 10 days."

Dewey, who was defeated twice as the Republican candidate for President, has "ruled out any possibility of taking a federal office under President Eisenhower, no matter what its title or duties," the dispatch said.

Believe Russia Will Veto Observers

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia was believed ready to use its veto power when the United Nations security council votes Friday on Thailand's request for "peace observers" to watch over the Communist advance in Indochina.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., council chairman for June, gave the Thailand request full American backing and called the meeting for the vote Friday morning.

"Its urgency is manifest," Lodge told the council.

Jailbreaker Is Captured

PETERSBURG, Ind. (AP)—William A. Bender, 30, the "green mask" bandit who broke out of an Illinois jail Wednesday, was captured today while riding a freight train across southern Indiana.

An Indiana State Police trooper and a small-town sheriff caught Bender at 6 a. m. CST. They said he was armed.

Bender was taken to Pike county jail here and officials said he refused to waive extradition for his return to Macoupin County, Ill., where he escaped by faking suicide.

Bender was captured by Trooper Howard B. Lytton, attached to the Jasper post of the Hoosier police force, and Sheriff Wilmer Whitehead of Petersburg.

Red Youths Severely Beaten in W. Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Gangs of Communist youths were severely beaten by angry West Berliners today when the Reds attempted to interrupt a mass meeting outside West Berlin's City Hall, honoring the East Germans who fought and died in last June 17 anti-Communist uprisings.

West Berlin police said 15 civilians and three policemen were injured in the clash.

Report Five American Technicians Captured By Reds in Indochina

HONG KONG (AP)—Persons recently arrived here from Indochina said today that five American Air Force technicians, on loan to France in Indochina, have been captured by the Communist Viet Minh.

The reports could not be confirmed immediately from official sources.

STREET ROD

THE STORY: Ricky Madison, 16, has used his savings to buy an old car from a disreputable dealer in order to keep pace with his friends, who are hot rod owners. Already he has come into a ditch and forced another driver off the road by his reckless driving.

VI
Ricky was polishing the car and knew it was time for his father to be coming home. It hadn't been too bad with his mother, but he knew that his father would launch the major attack.
Ricky turned to pick up a clean rag and saw his father just reaching the house. The feeling of dread that came over Ricky was so great he moved numbly, picking up the clean rag and rubbing the side of his car.
"Look at me, Ricky," Ricky looked up quickly. His hand slowed, but he kept rubbing. He bent his head again. He breathed easier. His father's voice was quiet, but steady.
"What, Dad?" Ricky tried to focus on his polishing.
"Look at me, Ricky," His father's tone was not angry. He was disturbed, but not angry. Ricky felt self-confidence coming back. Getting the car had knocked ed his parents off their pins. He really had the upper hand now. He'd showed them.
"Look at me, Ricky," Ricky looked up again, and this time his head stayed up.
"Why did you go to the bank and threaten Miss Myers? You didn't have to go behind my back to get your money."
"I didn't go behind your back," Ricky answered, turning red. "I wanted my money, and I just went and got it."
"And bought this car?"
"Yes."
"I'm sorry you did it that way." Now his dad was going to try and make him feel ashamed.
"Your mother and I talked things over after you rushed out of the house," Ricky's father continued. "We decided we were going to let you have a car. We thought you were old enough, and mature enough to be trusted. If you'd waited half a day..."
The only reason he's telling me this, Ricky thought, is because I've got a car. Sure, they were just about to let me have one! In another two years!
"Now," his father was saying. "The way you acted doesn't seem very mature to me. I don't think you can be trusted with a car."
"I have one," Ricky said. "I bought it with my own money, so I guess it's mine."
"You are 16 years old. You can't make a contract, if I don't want you to. The man who sold you the car can't enforce the contract if I want it revoked."
Ricky had been half-hoping it would be possible to return the car after establishing his independence with its purchase. But making a point of his being a child without authority to buy the car, made him determined to fight for it.
"I don't want to take it back," Ricky said stubbornly. "If you make me, I'll leave home."
His father smiled somewhat bitterly. "All right, Son," he said softly. "I was going to do you the favor of letting you return the car, but maybe it will teach you a little lesson if I insist you keep the car."
He's pitching a curve, Ricky thought. I'm set for it.
"I called Merle Connor," Mr. Madison went on. "I found out that you contracted to pay $75 for a car that isn't worth $35. My first impulse was to keep you from being cheated. But since you are determined to prove your independence, I won't interfere. My boy, it is your car, and you're stuck with it."
"That's all right with me," Ricky said.
His father straightened his coat. "Now... how about your insurance? You know our state law. Either you carry insurance or you prove that you have a financial ability of $10,000."
"Well... I'll just get insurance," Ricky said.
"No insurance company will write you up," his father said. "Not until you're 21. You'll need me or some other adult to get that insurance for you. And even then there's a question whether you'll get it."
"Suppose I don't get any insurance?" Ricky demanded.
"All right," his father said. "Let's assume you are in an accident, someone is injured, and you are sued for damages. And we'll suppose the court upholds the judgment—let's say for $20,000."
"The first thing that will happen, you'll lose your license and your car. There isn't much more that can be done until you're 21, but you reach manhood with a mortgage on your life. The people who have the judgment against you have first claim on everything you own and everything you earn. It might take the rest of your life to pay it off."
Ricky had no answer to that. They had him again.
"However," his father continued, "I wouldn't allow you to drive without insurance. Not so much for your protection, as for the protection of anyone you might injure. If I use the insurance factor to make you give up the car, you'll feel I tricked you. I want you to keep the car—if you can. But I also want to be sure that you're not a menace to others. Of course you'll have to pay for the insurance."
"I'll pay it," Ricky muttered. "How much will it be?"
"Around $50 a year."
"If you get it for me, could I pay you back $1 a week?"
"You have to pay on the car, you'll have operating expenses, repairs, a license to buy."
"Well," Ricky said, "if I get that job at the grocery store I..."
"Get the job before you make any promises," his father said.

Communist China to Establish Diplomatic Relations with Britain
LONDON — Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced today that Red China will send a charge d'affaires to London shortly to establish normal diplomatic relations with Britain.
Churchill made his announcement to the House of Commons.
Britain recognized the Red Chinese regime in 1950 before the Korea war, and sent a charge d'affaires to Peking.
But until now, Communist China has ignored the British gesture.
The Prime Minister's announcement disappointed many Laborites and others who had hoped that the talks in Geneva would lead to a full exchange of ambassadors between the two nations.

Four Adventurers Plan Trip to Hawaii on Raft Without Food or Water

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Four adventurous westerners "expect to make nautical history" by drifting to Hawaii on a 16 by 32 foot Douglas fir raft which will not carry "a drop of water or a bit of food." The group, which is made up of a lawyer, newspaperman, student and retired shipbuilder, might eventually include Jon Lindbergh, son of aviator Charles A. Lindbergh.
The mariners described the trip as "merely a shakedown" for one they plan to make from the Gulf of Persia, across the Indian and Pacific Oceans, to the United States.
Spokesman Keith Pope said Wednesday that the 2,800-mile expedition to Hawaii would start July 4, and "ought to be better than Kon-Tiki."
Pope, 34, recently resigned from the staff of a bay area newspaper. Others signed up for the projected 5 1/2 week voyage were Devere Baker, 38, ex-shipbuilder of Petaluma, Calif.; Leonard Karssevar, 30, Petaluma attorney; and Judge Lamont Hawks, 23, Ogden, Utah, artist and a student at the University of Utah.
Pope said the 21-year-old Lindbergh "definitely wants to go along." Lindbergh, a recently graduated Stanford University student, has been ordered to start naval service June 29. Pope said the group had asked Navy officials to give Lindbergh an extension.
Pope said the trip, billed officially as a "scientific expedition," was organized by Baker to study stress and strain on the human system while at the same time observing various phases of oceanic life.
"We are not going to take a drop of water or a bit of food when we leave here," he said. "We've got it figured out that there are an average of six squalls over the Pacific between here and Hawaii during July. They will give us rain water to drink."
"And as for food," he added, "we'll just fish it out of the sea."

France Blocks Ending of Geneva Parley

GENEVA (UP)—France blocked an end to the Geneva peace conference today by formally proposing the establishment of a nine-nation commission to deal with the Indochina issue.
The proposal was contained in notes sent to the delegations of the other eight nations suggested for the commission.
The plan proposed that the commission be set up to study the structure and powers of a cease-fire control system and to examine other problems relating to an end of hostilities in Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam.
The move followed failure in personal talks of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to convince Red China and the Soviet Union to offer some concrete hope of an Indochina settlement.

Marciano Risks His Crown Tonight in Bout with Ex-Champ Ezzard Charles

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten Rocky Marciano, banking on dynamite and durability, will risk his heavyweight crown the third time tonight against ex-champ Ezzard Charles, Negro master-boxer, at Yankee Stadium.

The latest weather forecast for tonight was "mostly fair and a little warmer." However, previously unfavorable forecasts and 36 hours of cloudy, cool weather retarded the ticket sale and may limit the crowd to 30,000 and the gate to $400,000.

A spokesman at the U. S. weather bureau said, "The night should be clear for the fight." It is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. (CST). Marciano was favored at 17-5 to blast Charles' dream of becoming the first man in modern history to recapture the heavyweight title. Eight tried it before and failed.

Swarthy, muscular Rocky, who belted out Joe Louis, Jersey Joe Walcott and Roland LaStarza, will be seeking his 46th straight professional victory and his 41st knock-out.

Questions to Answer
With his fists, the son of a Brooklyn, Mass., former shoemaker will answer questions about whether he is ring-rusty and whether he is stale from over-training. The 29-year old champion hasn't fought since last Sept. 24, when he made his second defense on an 11th-round kayo over LaStarza. However, he went through an unprecedented five-month training grind that was criticized as too arduous by some experts.

Charles, 32, will answer questions about whether he still has mental fire—the will to win, and whether he is physically "washed up." The supple Cincinnati slickster appeared to lack fire and physical sharpness while trying to recapture the title from Walcott in June, 1952. Two months later he dropped a decision to Rex Layne. And last summer he lost to Nino Valdes and Harold Johnson.

Ez Shows "Rebirth"

Ezzard showed signs of mental and physical rebirth when he knocked out Coley Wallace (10 rounds) on Dec. 16 and Bob Satterfield (2) on Jan. 13, his last fight. If Charles is "sharp" tonight, he will be the best all-round opponent Rocky ever faced. He is a stand-up fighter with an excellent left jab and left hook and a potent straight right. He knocked out 53 of his 97 opponents and was stopped but twice himself, by Walcott and Lloyd Marshall.

ANSWERS TO THE SPORTING NEWS BASEBALL QUIZ

1. Sibby Sisti bats righthanded only. 2. Frank Skaff was an infielder. 3. One home run. 4. Chuck Stobbs. 5. Nieman, 289; Wertz, 285; Adcock, 276 and Bell, 279.

Eldorado's high school basketball team will travel some eight miles to play a home game this coming season—but it probably will be eight miles well driven.

Both Harrisburg-Eldorado basketball games this coming season will be played in Davenport gymnasium, with Eldorado the "home" club on one occasion and Harrisburg the other.

By playing both games in the large HTHS gym it will do away with the long line of waiting to get in the smaller Eldorado gym when the two rivals clash.

The plan sounds like a good deal for everyone.

Even though it is a little out of season, here is another basketball item.

With one exception, Saline county's four high school basketball teams will not leave the county for invitational tourney play this next season.

The County Tournament, played at Davenport gym, will take care of one tourney for all teams—the Egyptian Holiday tourney also will be played in Davenport gym this year and Harrisburg and Carrier Mills are participants and the four-team blind draw tourney that Eldorado takes part in annually will be played in the EHS gym this time. The lone exception will be Galatia's participation in the Greater Egyptian conference tourney, which probably will be held at Golconda.

The St. Louis Cardinals will hold a player tryout camp at Marion June 28-29. Boys 17 to 22 years of age are eligible to try out.

Frank Charnak, track coach at Benton, set a new track record at Murphy's Sunday night, speeding around the track in 16.70. The old record was 17 flat.

Bill Hazel, Galatia stock car driver, set a new track record at Murphy's Sunday night, speeding around the track in 16.70. The old record was 17 flat.

No-Hitter, One-Hitter Feature Kiwanis Play

Two top-notch pitching performances featured Kiwanis league play Wednesday.

"Chuck" Henshaw of the Lions came up with a no-hitter and Gary Crews, Coca Cola hurler, had a one-hitter. The Lions won 12-0 over Pickford's. The Cokes defeated the Deuces 16-0 and the third game of the day was a hit fest with the Elks and Palace Clothing House coming up with a 17-17 tie game. The fourth game was cancelled when the Ronnie Clarks failed to show up at game time. The Clarks are now dropped from the league. They were scheduled to meet the Shells.

Henshaw closed his pitching with a brilliant string of strikeouts, fanning the last 14 Pickfords to come to the plate. Henshaw, along with Rauh, each paced the Lions to victory, each banging out two safe hits.

With the score knotted at 17-17 between the Elks and Palace Clothing the game was called at 5 o'clock so that the late game could get underway.

The last game of the day resulted in a 16-0 win for the Coca Colas over the Deuces, with Gary Crews, on the hill for the winners, in complete control. His bid for a no-hitter was blasted by Bill Hodges, opposing pitcher, who rapped out the only hit for the Deuces.

The Cokes came up with seven

It's Hogan Vs. Field as U. S. Golf Open Begins

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—Bantam Ben Hogan, miracle golfer of the low scoring era, set out as the favorite today to accomplish a feat without equal in the history of the U. S. Open golf championship—a fifth triumph in the game's severest test.

It was "Hogan against the field" again, as it has been so often in the past since he rang up his first victory with a record score of 276 in 1948. But the field is stronger than usual, on the basis of dozens of hot qualifying rounds in the sectional trials, and at 40 Ben faces a monumental task in throwing back the challenge of 161 crack golfers, including 135 pros and 26 amateur stars.

Snead Strongest Threat
Slammer! Sammy Snead, four-time runner-up and grimly determined to bag the only major title that has slipped his grasp in 18 years of campaigning, rated the best chance of thwarting Hogan's bid to break the three-way deadlock that now exists among Hogan, Bobby Jones and Willie Anderson for the most U. S. Open titles won—four.

Snead has been moaning for a week about muscle soreness in his neck and back which prevents full freedom of his picture swing but while he maintained "I just can't tell where the ball's going" his practice rounds indicated the 42-year old Slammer still is the big threat.

Ten Former Champs Start
Ten former champions in addition to Hogan were in the starting field but only the more recent winners like Lloyd Mangrum, Cary Middlecoff, Julius Boros and Lew Worsham, figured to have a chance. Oldsters Billy Burke, Chick Evans, Johnny Farrell, Lawson Little, Gene Sarazen, and Tony Manero, who won the last Open here in 1936, were more a part of the window-dressing than real contenders.

A newer corps of hot money players, led by Bob Toski of Livingston, N. J., was expected to give Hogan and Snead the stiffest battle.

Among them were Doug Ford, Jackie Burke, Shelley Mayfield, Bob Rosburg, Marty Furgol, Bill Nary and Gene Littler.

By Alta Porter

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gersbacher, Rt. 3, Harrisburg, whose 900 acres of farmland attest to their success as farmers, live a life which is very unpretentious, gracefully balanced and varied as to work, hobbies and humane interests.

Since they have no children, they have taken time to develop hobbies and befriend a very interesting collection of pets. These include a large English Shepherd dog, a cocker spaniel, two baby raccoons, some peafowl, a turkey gobbler and some wild geese.

It seems odd to call a big old strutting turkey gobbler a pet, but the gobbler on the Gersbacher farm is definitely that. He lets himself be pushed around and knows that Mr. and Mrs. Gersbacher are his friends and protectors, especially when his strutting annoys the peacock.

Actually he doesn't belong to the Gersbachers. They did own him and sold him to Howard James and when their tom turkey died last winter they borrowed him back from Mr. James. He is a dear pet come home to them, but a thorn in the side of the peacocks.

One of the peacocks is solid white, and when he walks about with feathers trailing, reminds one of a lady in negligee. When he struts he resembles a lady in bridal veil, with his huge tail of lacy feathers making a beautiful fan against which is silhouetted the delicate head, crested like the tiara from which the veil falls.

The other peacock is a bird as colorful as an oriental potentate in full regalia.

To see these two fowl perched on a post, preening themselves in the Gersbacher poultry yard is a delightful vision. It is a surprise to hear the blare of their strident voices, as they herald the day and fanfare the end of day. As though punching the time clock and a stickler for union hours, their high pitched honking and strutting lasts for about an hour morning and evening. They begin around 7 a. m. and continue until 8, and then in the evening strut from 4 to 5 p. m.

Their bodies are not large and their legs are not long, but they have great power in their legs and wings. They can do a standing hop from the ground to the roof of the chicken house.

These birds, once an ornamental accessory to well kept lawns and stately old farm homes and plantations, are not common any more, and Mr. and Mrs. Gersbacher will have no trouble selling any that they should raise.

They are beautiful, and they don't want any old turkey strutting around with his contented rustle, stealing the show from them, so Mrs. Gersbacher referees the bout when the peacocks pair up to make the going tough for Mr. Turkey.

Mr. Gersbacher's farms are in White, Hamilton and Saline counties—the home place in Saline county consisting of 460 acres. He is a natural born collector, and whatever he collects, he brings home for his wife, Ella, to take care of.

When two baby coons were orphaned five weeks ago, their mother, a traffic casualty, they waited for Mr. Gersbacher to come along and trotted behind him, until he picked them up and took them home to his Ella. She has fed and cared for them until they are now able to climb trees and trellises in the farm yard.

Their cocker spaniel, a little jealous at first, now lets the coons ride around on his back. Their English Shepherd tolerates them good naturedly. Sometimes they stray from their hutch in the yard and will be missing until meal time, when they come yipping back to their bowl of milk and cereal.

Soon the Gersbachers expect them to answer the call of the wild and will be surprised if they see them again after that.

Several years ago Mr. Gersbacher began collecting antiques, and in their house will be found some rare patterns of old glass, china, lamps, pitchers, vases, etc. Composites with heads on the lid, chicken and animal milk glass mustard dishes, several colors of satin glass, a shaving mug with a slot for the brush, a cheese dish, and many other heirlooms and "finds" of great value compose their wonderful collection. Their lamps are outstanding.

The Gersbachers came to Saline county in 1918 from Springerton. She is the former Ella McIntosh. His German thrift, combined with her Scotch economy, make for wise investment and use of all resources, without any hint of stinginess. Their farm is on one of the knolls at Saline Valley where tents were pitched by refugees from the surrounding lowlands during the 1937 flood.

Mr. Gersbacher is a member of the Saline County Farm Bureau and of the Registered Hereford Breeders' association. She is a member of the Christian church at Springerton and he is a member of the Springerton Church of Latter Day Saints.

Their home is a fascinating place to visit. Peaceful, abounding in hospitality, and enthralling interest.

New Coal-Burning Equipment Provides Automatic Comfort for Home Consumer

NEW YORK — The commercial availability today of new, automatic burning equipment gives coal a good chance of holding onto the home-fuel market, according to Coal Age, McGraw-Hill publication.

In cleanliness and ease of operation, automatic equipment lifts coal—both anthracite and bituminous—to a competitive level with oil and gas, the magazine says, and any advantage that oil or gas may have in first cost is pretty well offset by the superior longevity of coal equipment. Durability of coal equipment is about 25 years, as compared to 15 years for oil units and 20 for gas.

Substantial savings on fuel cost also are possible through the use of coal, the magazine points out. Generally, coal always has been the least expensive fuel, and home owners who have switched from oil or gas to automatic coal heat report fuel savings ranging from 25 to 50 per cent.

Features of New Units

From burning units now available, coal users can obtain any degree of automaticity they want. Features of the new units are: (1) adequate storage for reserve fuel, sealed to prevent escape of dust, and located for convenient filling; (2) regular filling of the bin by the fuel supplier on a schedule geared to degree days; (3) controls that transmit heat demands from living quarters to burning unit and circulate air in winter or summer. Regulator system; (4) quick, automatic response by the burning unit to demand for heat; (5) sealed, automatic feed of fuel from storage to fire chamber; (6) automatic removal of ash and other wastes without dust or dirt, and (7) plenty of hot water on demand.

Automatic coal burning units now on the market include anthracite conversion units, boiler-burn-

Carrier Mills Adds 30,000 Gallons Per Hour to Reservoir

Approximately 30,000 gallons of water an hour are being pumped into the Carrier Mills reservoir, but at least for the present restrictions on use of water will remain in effect, an official of the system said today.

Water is being pumped into the reservoir from an old Blue Bird Coal company workings, known as the "Paul Black strip," about two miles from the reservoir.

The water is being siphoned from the strip into a ditch and runs to the reservoir pump station by gravity. It is thought that approximately seven feet of water can be obtained by siphoning, before pumping at the strip will be necessary.

It is estimated that the average depth of the water, which has been tested and found acceptable for drinking purposes and with very little more hardness than the regular supply, is 25 feet.

'Bandwagon' Program Monday to Keep Eldorado Project Rolling

A "Bandwagon Day" will be held at Eldorado Monday, June 21, when townspeople will pledge to "Keep the Wheels Rolling" in a community development program which now faces its severest test: converting thought into action.

The day will be climaxed by a 100-foot parade and entertainment in a flower-decked high school auditorium prior to a town meeting. Each organization in Eldorado will be represented in a body, carrying 10-foot standards similar to those used at political conventions.

The six-month study and research phase of Eldorado's community betterment project, known as "Operation Bootstrap" and conducted by the citizenry with the help of Southern Illinois university, ended two weeks ago. The job ahead is to implement the action plans mapped earlier.

John Nuveen to Speak

Wagon wheels, symbols of the celebration Monday, were prominently displayed throughout the city this week. To insure a heavy turnout, volunteers were to call each name in the telephone book, distribute handbills to homes and in theaters, and leaflets will be dropped from an airplane Saturday. The town fire siren will be rung every hour on the hour Saturday and Monday, and a sound truck will blare announcements of the meeting all day Monday.

Principal speaker at the evening session will be John Nuveen, chairman of the board of John Nuveen and Co., a Chicago investment banking firm, and former minister to Greece. He is also a trustee of the University of Chicago and Carleton college, and a member of the Chicago Crime Commission.

To Report on Projects

Among the guests invited for the festive occasion are SIU President D. W. Morris and representatives of railroads, industrial development organizations and factory locating services.

Mayor John David Upchurch will designate the next immediate action project, the building of a new city park. Each of the 15 committees which studied Eldorado's problems will report briefly on their accomplishments, outline what action projects are now underway, and which are planned for the future.

A rehearsal for the program will be held Sunday at 8:20 p. m. The 6:30 p. m. parade through the downtown district will include floats from all the "Bootstrap" committees and many representing business firms and organizations. Boy Scouts, baton twirlers and musicians will also be in the line of march. The Eldorado high school band will play at the auditorium for the 8 p. m. meeting.

To Light Up Wheel

Speakers and chairmen of each "Bootstrap" committee will be seated at a long table on the platform behind which will be a 10-foot wheel. As each organization pledges continued support of "Bootstrap," the individual sections of the wheel between spokes will be lighted.

Brief talks will be made by T. Leo Dodd, president of the Eldorado Community Development association, and Richard W. Poston, head of the community development department at Southern Illinois university.

The speaker from Chicago was born there in 1896 and received a Ph. B. degree from the University of Chicago in 1919. In World War I, he was in the aviation section of the signal corps and was regional director of the War Production Board in Chicago in World War II.

Nuveen was chairman of the Board of Public Welfare Commissioners of Illinois from 1941-44. He was minister to Greece and chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration there in 1948, and ECA chief in Belgium and Luxembourg in 1949-50.

He is regional vice-president of the National Municipal League and president of the Chicago Sunday Evening club, a member of the International committee of the YMCA, trustee of the Baptist Theological Union, and vice-president of the Greater Chicago association. The parade will be formed at Walnut and First Streets, proceeding down Locust street through the downtown district and ending at the high school.

The program in the auditorium opens with the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and also includes a assembly singing of "America" and "Auld Lang Syne," led by the Rev. Charles W. Branum of the Church of Christ. Very Rev. W. E. Hanagan of St. Mary's church will give the invocation and the Rev. C. C. Love of the Methodist church will offer the benediction. Harold Skelton will be soloist.
